Randy, as discussed, attached is a revised version of the CD in track-changes. The revised paragraphs are 2, 6, and 29. As noted, we still need to run the concept and language by our client, so rights reserved, but let us know if you have any issues with the language. Thanks.

I'm free to talk late in the day tomorrow (after 5pm eastern). You can pick a specific time to talk or send me an explanatory e-mail in the meantime.

Randy, please let us know when you're available to discuss your comments. We have only a couple open issues and think it would be more efficient to resolve them on a call. If you'd prefer, though, we can send a mark-up or address them in an email. Please let us know. Thanks.

Randy, attached is a revised draft of the Consent Decree with a blackline against your last version. As you'll note, our revisions are fairly light and, hopefully, non-controversial. If you disagree and have issues with the revisions, please let us know and we can discuss. Also, note that we'll provide this draft to counsel for the Litigation Trust, so they may have additional comments, although I doubt it. Thanks.

Phil –

Attached is a revised proposed version of the Consent Decree. The “track changes” markings highlight changes to the version you sent me in May 2013.

As discussed, it would be best for all concerned if I could get your client's signature this month (recognizing that the proposed settlement would still remain subject to approval by senior government officials, the Bankruptcy Court, and the District Court).
